

Akenfield
Portrait of an English Village

by Ronald Blythe
Illustrations by Peter Bailey

Akenfield is a made-up placename based partly upon Akenham (a small village just north of Ipswich, the county town of Suffolk) and probably partly on Charsfield, a village just outside the small town of Wickham Market, Suffolk, about ten miles north-east of Akenham.

Type Set in Monotype Walbaum, Printed on Caxton Wove Paper, bound in Quarter Cloth with Paper sides printed and blocked with a design by Peter Bailey.

Slipcase is in good condition with a mark on the back edge. Book is in Excellent Condition

$35.00
(including shipping - Australia Only)

